

We are delighted that Netball is finally back as is the Avenir Suisse programme.

The Avenir Suisse programme is now in its 3rd year – not counting the past year with a disrupted season due to the global pandemic. Swiss Netball hopes that the number of athletes participating in the programme will continue to grow, building on the previous success by supporting, encouraging and developing the athletes in their aim to progress to the National Squad.

What is Avenir Suisse?

Avenir Suisse has been designed to give a boost to netball development, acknowledging that some players in clubs have limited opportunities for training. Swiss Netball recognises that there is a great deal of potential out there and designed this inspirational programme to run alongside our National Squad, thus sharing both knowledge and resources. Developing athletes will be given access to additional coaching through this programme which will also help raise the level of netball in clubs. Our National Squad coaches will be on hand to identify future talent for the National Squad and Swiss representative teams, which will also benefit from having a greater pool of elite athletes to select from.

Who is eligible?

Avenir Suisse is for eligible girls with limited netball opportunities which means primarily girls only playing in a club. Those who have netball at school can train regularly, are able to participate in competitions and tournaments and can also attend a club should they wish.

Avenir Suisse candidate profile: Swiss passport holding/residents, i.e. those meeting the eligibility criteria of playing for Switzerland, born 2005 - 2008 with limited access to netball (club netball only). All nominated athletes must be an Individual Member of Swiss Netball. www.swissnetball.ch top right hand corner – “Member registration”.
